Three generations take ladies only dive

Updated: 03:19, Sunday April 24, 2011

It is relatively safe to say not too many people have plucked up the courage to jump out of an aircraft.

Three generations of the same family though, have done just that in a ladies' skydiving-fest in the Brisbane Valley.

The women were skydiving as part of a female band of skydivers known as the 'Sky Sisters'.

The 'Sky Sisters' say that the group is all about bringing together female skydivers from all around the world to share in new skydiving experiences.
