It's raining women

Here at MM, we're not completely certain if some of the girls involved in a recent lingerie sky-dive were a little confused by the phrase 'exposed to the elements'.

Wentworth Falls resident Samantha Munn took part in Skysisters 2011 on Easter Sunday for the Lady Bird lingerie jump over Toogoolawah in Queensland.

According to Skysister 2011 organiser Susie McLachlan it was all about celebrating the female form, pushing boundaries and having fun. An action-packed nine-day program involved a range of themed jumps.

"We're having a blast and having so many girls together gives us a fantastic opportunity to attempt some all-female records and to take some new recruits into the air," said Suzie. "Skysisters is a great opportunity to come and have a go and try skydiving for yourself. Yesterday we had a three-generation jump which was amazing, so you can even bring your nanna and have a try!"

It's yet to be confirmed whether nanna was allowed a little more modesty than the girls.
